I am an experienced Digital Healthcare Specialist with over 15 years of experience in Clinical Management, Health Information Systems implementation, and clinical content writing. I am a clinician with MSc. in Healthcare Management from the Royal College of Surgeons of the UK, with invaluable experience in multi-disciplinary team management, strategic project management, healthcare research, content writing, and implementation of a broad set of clinical applications.

I have been involved in many leading-edge HIS implementations, and patient-centric healthcare delivery systems across healthcare institutions in the Middle East, South East Asia, Africa, and Europe. I have spearheaded the development and implementation of many healthcare platforms and Mobile Apps providing secure, and fast sharing of health records between patients, clinicians, and ambulatory care providers.

In addition to implementing processes for value-based care, I am also an experienced clinical writer with several years of experience of writing clinical content. My experience in writing in the health and wellness niche is vast. My career as a writer has been committed to developing high-quality content and effective content and digital strategies for individuals and organizations to help them establish an online presence. My clinical experience lends authority to the content I produce for my clients.

I am spearheading SEO and content writing for a very prominent healthcare company based in the US. I have recently developed content for training nurses for the NHS, including guidelines on best practices in data security.
